Department of Energy Appoints Flynt Group as a Protégé Firm

Kansas City, MO – December 18, 2009 – The Flynt Group, Inc., announced today that the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) has appointed it as a DOE Protégé Firm.

This distinction provides all DOE entities' project managers, from its administrative departments through the National Laboratories, direct, simple access to all of Flynt Group's services.

DOE's appointment of Flynt Group as a Protégé Firm frees DOE project managers from the bureaucratic process and long lead times of the competitive bidding cycle and means that DOE entities' project managers, from an internal department up to the National Laboratories, can directly engage Flynt Group's support without having to bid the work or even justify a sole source requirement.

Flynt Group's President, Dr. Bill Flynt stated "This is quite an honor and an opportunity to increase our support of our DOE and related clients. We are well-known in the energy industry for our expertise in critical infrastructure protection, management consulting, and special risk management services and our appointment by DOE as a Protégé Firm makes receiving our services as easy as calling us. DOE recognizes that Flynt Group provides it with essential, rare skills and services and they have appointed us as a Protégé Firm to ensure all DOE project managers can easily engage us for assistance."
